

Federal Fly-In for Technology & Innovation March 12, 2008, Begins 8:00 AM on March 12th

Washington DC.

Keeping the technology industry rapidly transforming our industries and regions is mission-critical to our present and future economic successes. Making sure our federal and state public policies facilitate innovation environments that enable technology transformations, CRITA and ITAA focus its strategies to positively engage Congress, the Administration, states and companies. The Federal FLY-IN for Technology & Innovation is specifically designed to permit company leaders to actively engage their federal delegation, the administration and industry leaders on focused technology and innovation issues as well as participate in concise and timely updates from leading federal officials on our pressing challenges and opportunities. Presentations and speakers at the FLY-IN shall feature congressional leaders, administration officials and industry experts
